

Harte Makes 2 Double Faults in 3rd Set Match With Williams in Longwood Singles Final

ROD AND GUN NEWS

WELLS TAKES LONGWOOD SINGLES

Wins Right to Challenge Johnston for Bowl by Defeating Harte.

Special Despatch to The Sun.
Borron, July 30.—R. Norris Williams, 2d, today won the right to challenge William Johnston for the Longwood bowl by defeating Richard Harte with comparative ease in the final match of the Longwood singles on the Longwood courts at Chestnut Hill. Harte furnished little opposition. Williams ran the match in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. In the first set, Williams won the first point, and Harte was unable to get his service working. Harte proved a disappointment. He tried to show any of the tennis that he brought him up to the final. He was erratic throughout and made error after error, his worst work being in making double faults. Twenty-two points were credited to him. He tried hard to drive the ball over the net, only to drive out of the court. These errors were enough to defeat any player, but Harte kept missing away only to continue piling up his misplays.

In the last game he made three double faults and an out-of-bounds shot. It was easy for Williams. The latter was not forced to extend himself with his opponent showing no weakness. He had only to get the ball in to win.

There were times when Williams did buckle down to his task, but there was no need for it. Harte beat himself. He was not able to get his service working after the first set, the score of which was 6-1. It seemed that Harte perked up a bit.

Harte could not get his service working and besides making a record for winning the long set, 14-12, against Garland on the day before, his double faulting established another record for the Chestnut Hill courts.

As Johnston has been playing good tennis on his way from the Pacific coast and Williams is a well-known player, the best game, to-morrow afternoon's match should give some idea as to how the pair would do for the championship to be held at Forest Hills, L. I., the last week of next month.

It was not thought that Harte would be such an easy opponent of his old intercollegiate doubles champion partner. Williams had played through a fairly high class field of players, the most prominent of whom was Charles C. Garland of Pittsburg.

Owing to the quick way that Williams disposed of Harte, an exhibition mixed doubles match was staged. Irving C. Wright and Mrs. George W. Williams, the latter the national women champion, played Harry C. Johnson, State champion, and Miss Marion Zinderstein, Canadian national doubles and mixed doubles champion. The first set was won by Mrs. Wright and Williams, 6-0, but the second, which went to deuce games, was won by Miss Zinderstein and Mr. Johnson, 6-4.

William M. Johnston, the Californian, practised with Nat. W. Niles for to-morrow's challenge match, and the indications are that it will bring out the best of the Williams possibilities. The scores of to-day's match by points follow:

Hall, Tilden, Beekman and Alexander in Semi-Finals

Advance in Singles in Seabright Tennis Tourney—Man and Mathey Are Eliminated in Doubles by Richards and Tilden.

Special Despatch to The Sun.
SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 30.—Play was brought down to the semi-final round in the Seabright tennis tournament at the Seabright Tennis and Cricket Club here today. The largest gallery that has been seen in the Seabright tennis matches was on hand and witnessed some excellent tennis. In the singles all of the third round matches were won in straight sets, while in the round before the semi-finals of doubles the two matches in the upper half were finished in consecutive sets, while both contests in the lower half required an extra set for completion.

Walter Moore and John Stimpert, champions; William T. Tilden 2d, former national clay court champion; Leonard Beekman, former Princeton player, and Fred B. Alexander made up the quarter that advanced in the singles. To-morrow Hall will meet Tilden and Beekman will play against Alexander. In the doubles the two matches in the upper half were finished in consecutive sets, while both contests in the lower half required an extra set for completion.

The match, however, turned out to be a disappointment, for the keen fight which was looked for was hopelessly lacking and Tilden won easily enough at 6-2, 7-5.

Match Lacks Rallies.
The match was painfully lacking in rallies of any kind and the points for the most part were made on errors. Voshell was very bad, and Tilden did not look at all good, while the match was a tale. The best feature of the left hander's game was his service and even that was not up to his usual standard. Tilden played through a fairly high class field of players, the most prominent of whom was Charles C. Garland of Pittsburg.

Owing to the quick way that Williams disposed of Harte, an exhibition mixed doubles match was staged. Irving C. Wright and Mrs. George W. Williams, the latter the national women champion, played Harry C. Johnson, State champion, and Miss Marion Zinderstein, Canadian national doubles and mixed doubles champion. QUIETUDE STUMBLES AND LOSES A STAKE

Steps in Hole in Stretch at Empire and Is Beaten a Head by Ticklish.

By HENRY V. KING.
Ticklish won the Fleetwing Handicap at the Empire City track yesterday afternoon, but he wasn't the best horse in the stretch. He finished a head in front of Quietude, but that was because Quietude stumbled in the homestretch. The daughter of Dalhousie had the race at her mercy when the accident occurred. With less than a sixteenth of a mile to go she was half a length in front and running faster than any of her opponents. To the crowd it looked as if she would win breathing, but just as thousands were proclaiming her the victor she stepped in a hole and floundered all over the track. While Tommy Nolan was doing his mightiest to get her going at her best again Ticklish went to the front, and aided by a vigorous finish by Fairbrother, he won the lead long enough to hold his head home first.

The Fleetwing is a $2,000 stake, and in quest of the purse Quietude, Ticklish, Turf and Vague went to the post. Mars Cassidy sent them away to a good start, but before the first furling had been covered Vague shot to the front and quickly opened up a big gap on her opponents. While she was racing alone in front Turf, Ticklish and Quietude were running together three lengths back. Vague is only a quarter horse, and when she bent her head to "come back." As she faltered Fairbrother went to work on Ticklish and quickly overhauled the faint hearted leader.

Another interesting match in the doubles was the 7th State champions, deuce games, to win the title. Francis T. Hunter in straight heats after a hard fight at 6-2, 7-5. Like Tilden, Voshell also was better in the doubles than he was in the singles. He and three games stretches, however, when both he and Alexander were inclined to be wild. It was in these stretches that Kumagae was not up to his usual standard. Tilden played through a fairly high class field of players, the most prominent of whom was Charles C. Garland of Pittsburg.

Owing to the quick way that Williams disposed of Harte, an exhibition mixed doubles match was staged. Irving C. Wright and Mrs. George W. ATLANTA GOLFER SETS WORLD MARK

Edgar Plays 72 Holes in 279 in Tourney for Canadian Open Championship.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 30.—The world's competitive record for seventy-two holes medal play of 289, tied last week at Cleveland by the late James H. Barnes of St. Louis, was broken here today by Douglas Edgar of Atlanta, Ga., who with a score of 219 won the Canadian open golf championship here.

The English professional and former French open champion, who represented the Druid Hills Golf Club of Atlanta, played one of the most sensational games yet witnessed on American golf courses. He started with a 100-yard hole in three, being two under par. This feat he duplicated at the fourth hole. At the sixth he holed out in two and at the turn had the remarkable score of 16.

The tenth hole was made in par, and the next was a bird 2. The Englishman played the 34th yard, twelfth, in 3. From the thirteenth he holed out in two, the green and missed holing a thirty foot putt by inches. On the fourteenth he drove nearly 150 yards, played a 150 yard hole in three, being two under par. This feat he duplicated at the fourth hole. At the sixth he holed out in two and at the turn had the remarkable score of 16.

While much of the day's play was the return to competition of Heals C. Wright and Holcombe Ward as a doubles team. Ward and Wright were the national doubles champions in 1904, 1905 and 1906. The two veterans were beaten in straight sets at 6-2, 6-4.

In spite of the fact that they did not win enough games to carry them to the final round, they played a remarkably fine tennis. Their team work was good and their strokes for most part were excellent. They were beaten in straight sets at 6-2, 6-4.

Another interesting match in the doubles was the 7th State champions, deuce games, to win the title. Francis T. Hunter in straight heats after a hard fight at 6-2, 7-5. Like Tilden, Voshell also was better in the doubles than he was in the singles. He and three games stretches, however, when both he and Alexander were inclined to be wild.
